SHOUT WHISPER WAIL!
THE 2017 CHARTWELL SHOW

Explore how 11 contemporary New Zealand and Australian artists use 'voice' — and indeed who they speak to — in this triennial exhibition dedicated to the Chartwell Trust, whose important collection of contemporary art has been under the guardianship of Auckland Art Gallery for 20 years.

Shout Whisper Wail! The 2017 Chartwell Show looks at how an artist might use forms of performance, sound, music or the tools of rhetoric to activate the idea of an audience within their work.

GROUP EXHIBITION

FINE ART

TONY LANE – INFINITIES

Tony Lane's palette has lightened in his latest suite of works, Infinities. The deep blacks, dark as endless nights, that have been such a presence in his paintings over the last decade have been replaced with rich purples, soft yellows, verdant greens, turquoise blues and crimsons the colour of old blood. This sees the new paintings mapping a definite transition from night to day both within Infinities and across Lane's practice as a whole and is the culmination of two years of intensive work in the studio. There are other subtle changes too. These paintings allude more to the natural world and landscape in terms of the signs and forms that are being referenced, than Lane's past paintings which are more akin to still life.

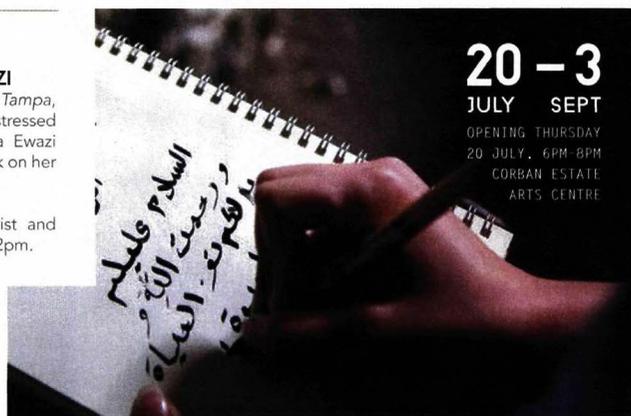

WHAT'S GOIN' ON?

REFUGEE. ART & MEMORIES

16 YEARS LATER:
AN EXHIBITION BY SAKINA EWAZI

In 2001 Norwegian cargo ship, The Tampa, rescued 433 refugees from a distressed fishing vessel. Refugee artist Sakina Ewazi shares her memories and reflects back on her time living at sea on The Tampa.

Public Programme:
Roundtable discussion with the artist and curator. Saturday 19 August, 11am-12pm.

EVENT

AUCKLAND ZINEFEST

Auckland Zinefest is a non-profit grass roots community festival that celebrates and promotes DIY and self-publishing in Auckland. The festival is open to all. Zinefest is run by volunteers who have a passion for community arts projects and zines. We believe that zines are a great way for creative expression and sharing your own stories and experiences. We like to be kept in-the-know about anything relating to zines, comics, self-publishing and creative processes, in and around Auckland and New Zealand.

FINE ART

TIMOTHY JONES – NEW WORKS

Timothy Jones is an abstract painter of contemporary works. While many of the pieces focus on a subject, he maintains himself as more of an abstract artist. His style is one of discovery, avoiding the confines often attached to the figurative painter.
